

The Allyance and the Alliance Member Companies

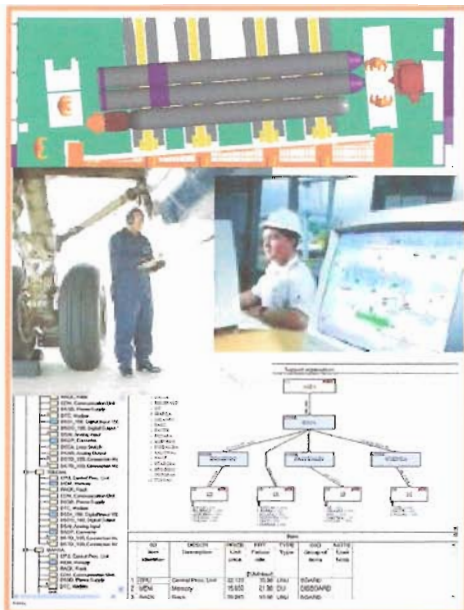

Who are the Allyance?

The Allyance is a Project Management company set up to enable customers to get turn-key solutions to large and complex requires, with the benefits of the technical capabilities, innovation, flexibility and cost effectiveness of using Small and Medium Enterprises (SMEs).

Who are the Alliance Members?

The Alliance Members are a group of highly capable, specialist companies that each have an excellent track record of success and proven abilities. These companies vary in size from a handful of staff, through to several hundred. The Alliance Partners include companies that specialise in the following aspects of Technical Services:

- Requirements Management, Business Process Engineering, Systems Engineering.
- Procurement Process, Acceptance and ITEAs.
- Through-life Planning and Business Processes.
- Safety Engineering, Safety Case development and management.
- Personnel training, Training Needs Analyses, and training delivery.
- ILS, including all aspects of LSA, spares provisioning and training.
- Asset management, tracking, optimisation and software systems.
- Spares, equipment and system-of-system availability modelling.
- Development, testing and analysis of high-integrity software systems.
- Communications, C4I and data software systems.
- Human Factors Engineering and Ergonomics.
- Academic research, studies, analyses and process development.
- Technical manpower resourcing.
- Airworthiness and military aircraft safety.
- Test system development and production of test equipment.
- Range systems and measuring equipment.

To find out more

Call Rick Hussey on 01865-327427 or visit www.allyance.co.uk